THE LINE OF THE LIGHT

It has an "underground" origin in the real sense of the word. It is inspired by the lamps of mirrors and wicker, produced by a metal cage which in Cape Breton is known as "cage". The contrast between the refined bronze glass diffuser and the external cage is enhanced and reinforced even more by the irregularities due to the hand-crafting of the wire.

Conceived from the start as a complete collection, it is available in the floor lamp, suspension and table lamp versions.

In the suspension lamp version, it is available with a glass globe or with a black lacquer, in which a touch of white metal cage is applied, or in the new surprising version, where the wire cage is made of wood.

It casts an intense beam of light downwards, which gives the appearance of a torch, a lantern or a well-lit path. In the black or white version, it also allows a soft glow into space, while the bronze collection, with its play of light, radiates it with its own white intensity and lighting of its own specific dimension.
